

Director of Education - Museum of Idaho

Position Description/Responsibilities:

The Museum of Idaho (MOI) Director of Education will have a deep interest in education and multidisciplinary learning, be interested in finding a new approach to traditional learning, and have an affinity with cultural and natural history as is the purpose of the MOI. The director will be apt to working with children of all ages as well as adults and volunteers.

The Director of Education, will be responsible for the delivery and implementation of the MOI's outreach programs. The director will be involved in the planning and implementation of all on-site and off-site educational programs and will oversee the writing of the curricula and research the best practices for bringing the MOI educational programs to their full potential as listed below:

1. Current Education Programs
 - Rocky MT. Adventure – Kids and Adults – Summer Science Camps
 - Discovery Day – Saturday Programs for Kids
 - Night at the Museum – Overnight Program for Kids
 - Snake River Review – Research & Writing Course for High School Students
2. New Programs in the future
 - Adult History Tours
3. Teacher Relationships
 - To be a greater resource to area schools
 - Continued development of on-line curriculum for their access
 - Increase attendance to MOI by the schools
4. Children's Discovery Room
 - Continued development and maintenance

The Director of Education will operate the education programs to achieve the mission of the MOI to provide excellent education and to generate income for the MOI to keep the education programs sustainable. The director will also operate within a well thought out budget.

The Educational Programs and Children's Discovery Room are to function on the highest professional and ethical level so as to be sustainable for the future, always keeping the MOI mission statement as their grounding.

The above responsibilities are subject to change at the direction of the Museum of Idaho Executive Director.

Please submit your cover letter and resume to annvance@museumofidaho.org or you may drop it by at the front desk of the museum. No phone calls, please.

The closing date to submit materials will be Tuesday, August 10 at 5:00 PM.